Tapi S.p.A. has been awarded the EcoVadis silver medal, demonstrating its commitment to sustainability

Tapi S.p.A. has been awarded the silver medal in recognition of its rating by EcoVadis, the world's largest provider of corporate sustainability assessments, which takes into account environmental, social and ethical performance.

The sustainability certification process, which involves a careful analysis and checking of all the required processes and parameters, led to this award of fundamental importance for the company.

Participating in the EcoVadis rating process and obtaining a silver medal was a priority objective for Tapi S.p.A. in its continued commitment to improving the quality, efficiency, transparency and sustainability of the production methods, services and products it provides to its customers and to promoting this culture throughout the Organization.

Martino Vettorazzi, Quality Manager at Tapi S.p.A., commented:

“We are proud to have achieved this result, which for Tapi represents a way of expressing its sustainability policy. Excellent teamwork, thank you all!

Other ESG projects are underway at Group level, and we hope to bring them to fruition soon.”

After obtaining ISO 9001 certification and registering with the Sedex portal, which certifies the ethics of corporate processes, obtaining EcoVadis recognition confirms the company's achievement of excellence and desire to pursue its improvement goals in terms of sustainability, as well as further strengthening its image with customers, who are increasingly selective in working only with companies approved and validated by accredited certification bodies.
